ABOUT CECO

A WORD FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear CECO Supporters and Friends,

As we welcome a new year, I am filled with immense gratitude as I share with you the remarkable growth and impact that CECO achieved in 2023. Our expansion by 3,000 square feet, the opening of two new classrooms, and the addition of 10 new families to our community signify a year of transformative progress. Throughout the past year, we have had the privilege of serving 145 participants, making a positive impact on the lives of hundreds of families.

This growth empowers us to advance our mission of providing lifelong learning and development that transform lives for individuals of all ages with neurological motor disabilities. My heartfelt gratitude goes out to our supporters and friends for making this incredible journey possible. However, the journey continues as we still have a waitlist of families eager to attend CECO. Our commitment remains steadfast, and there is more work to be done.

Looking ahead, and with your ongoing support, CECO will remain as a source of inspiration.

Thank you for being a vital part of our journey.

A WORD FROM THE FOUNDER

Dear Valued Champions of CECO,

We are so grateful for your support of the CECO community. Thanks to your generosity, we have reached new heights that seemed unimaginable when Vicky and I first embarked on this journey in 2001. The last year has witnessed significant expansion and remarkable progress toward fulfilling our mission.

This past year proved the commitment CECO has to providing an enriching environment for our community and allows us to cater to the diverse needs of the population we serve. Notably, we not only expanded physically but also organizationally, growing our Board of Directors and working closely with consultants to enhance our capabilities. CECO remains as a leader in Conductive Education across the country. This success is a testament to the collective efforts of our dedicated families, board members, staff, volunteers, and supporters.

As we reflect on the past year, I extend my deepest gratitude to all who have played a role in making CECO the thriving community it is today. Your commitment and support are instrumental in propelling us forward.

We are filled with optimism for the future. Your ongoing support ensures that CECO will persist as a guiding light of hope, making a lasting impact on the lives of those we are privileged to serve.

Thank you for your continued support.

PARTICIPANT SUCCESS STORIES

Dylan Parnell, 4 years old, joined CECO in 2022 in our Individual Sessions Program and also attended the Youngster Summer Camp in 2023.

Upon arrival, Dylan used a posterior walker, faced challenges in following instructions, and struggled with unstable sitting. Today, Dylan walks independently for at least five feet, follows instructions, and exhibits improved balance during extended periods of sitting. Dylan's small steps of growth are helping to make a difference.

Emma Vaccaro, aged 11, joined CECO in 2019 as part of the School Day program. Upon admission, Emma took only four consecutive steps with a gait trainer, faced challenges with sitting and standing, expressed fear of various activities, cried frequently, exhibited social anxiety, and struggled to participate in group activities due to her anxiety. Additionally, she had difficulty communicating her wants and needs effectively. Presently, Emma has made remarkable progress—she can now walk not only with her gait trainer but also with a conductive education ladder with the assistance of one person. She can pull herself into a standing position by holding a CE ladder, and she is capable of maintaining sitting on a bench for almost a minute with close supervision. Beyond these physical achievements, Emma has become an invaluable member of her class, fostering positive relationships with her peers, teachers, and assistants. Her ability to communicate her wants and needs has significantly improved through the use of her PODD book, a picture-based communication system. Emma's transformative journey at CECO exemplifies the impact of our programs based on the holistic development of our students.

Rocky Maiorca and his family moved from Ohio to Orlando in 2021 so that Rocky could attend the Adult Program at CECO. He has shown remarkable progress during his time at CECO. Initially, he transitioned from bench sitting to achieving standing and walking with the assistance of two individuals. To enhance his success, his parents ordered a standing frame for home practice. Not only has Rocky made physical strides, but he has also become more outgoing and social, forming meaningful relationships with his peers. His journey reflects both the personal growth and the supportive community fostered at CECO.

Cooper Smith, 13, became a part of the CECO community in 2017. Initially enrolled in the pilot program at Lake Silver Elementary for a year, he transitioned to the CECO School Day Program for the 2017-2018 year. Cooper relied on a posterior walker and faced challenges in behavior and communication, with limited self-care skills. Today, Cooper has made significant strides - he walks independently using canes for distances up to 10 feet, has improved behavior, communicates effectively through signs and a touch-based device, and has achieved the milestone of eating independently. His journey at CECO reflects not only personal growth but also the positive impact of our programs on the lives of our students and their families.

Ryan Linder transitioned from the School Day Program to the Adult Program in 2019. He has demonstrated significant progress, notably enhancing his proficiency in using the Neuronode communication device through improved upper body gross motor movements. Additionally, he has made substantial strides in his social engagement, showcasing a newfound willingness to actively participate in large group activities. This includes lifting CECO superheroes, engaging in outdoor games at school, and participating in adult program activities that involve loud noises or large peer groups. Ryan's achievements reflect not only advancements in his technical skills but also a commendable growth in his social confidence and participation within the broader community.

Parent Perspectives: Testimonials

"My 5-year-old son is diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy, and I have been looking for much more than the 30-minute therapy sessions he has been getting. Something that brings visible results in a short period of time. It was a true miracle that we found CECO, and the miracles did not stop there. As a Hungarian I am fully aware of the method CECO uses, so it was not a question if we were going to enroll. I know the method and the conductors are true miracle workers. And I was not disappointed. My son showed incredible improvements that were clearly noticeable to everyone who knows him. The entire team treats these children like they are their own. I am grateful for every minute my son spends at CECO, and I know he is in the best hands possible."

-Krisztina, Filip's Mom

"As a former, veteran educator of 12 years, I would not trust my son Tobias' education to any other group of people. CECO embodies the definition of accessible education and student support. Each of the conductors, teachers, staff and administration treat every student with dignity, respect and love. I have never once worried for his safety or well being while at CECO. It is truly a place filled with joy, hope, and positivity! CECO is a magical and miraculous beacon of light for families of children with neuromuscular disabilities."

- Jessey, Tobias' Mom

Parent Perspectives: Testimonials

"We are grateful for the progress McKenzie has made since starting with CECO, and this is a direct result of the dedication and hard work of the staff. We are confident that she will continue to thrive under their guidance and care."
- Khadijah, Mackenzie's Mom

"We are so glad we discovered Conductive Education for Cooper. Making the decision to move him to CECO was the best decision we have ever made. There is no doubt that we have CECO to thank for all of his progress this year."
- Melissa, Cooper's Mom

"CECO is where Chandler can smile, be with friends, feel safe, all while being the best he can be. He is supported by caring, loving and enthusiastic teachers. They provide an amazing environment for him to thrive in!"
- Michelle, Chandler's Mom

VISION FOR TOMORROW

As CECO continues to grow and adapt, just like the children we educate, we find ourselves at a pivotal moment, ready to nurture our future growth. From our humble beginnings with just six students, CECO has flourished into a dynamic, mid-sized nonprofit school. Our students' needs are continuously evolving, making our programs – that span infants to adults – more vital than ever.

In an ever-changing world, particularly in the field of education, we are embracing new methods to connect with families. Leveraging virtual technology and leaning into developing new technologies of our own, like the CECO ladder, we're investing in technology and partnerships to meet our community's needs both online and in-person.

Our focus extends beyond teaching. We're actively developing new training methods for educators and increasing community awareness about CECO and the importance of early intervention. Addressing the comprehensive needs of our families, including therapy and mental health resources, is a priority.

Looking ahead, CECO is committed to expanding our reach. We aim to enlarge our school's physical space, explore possibilities for adult homes, enhance outdoor play areas, and advance teaching and research initiatives. As we venture into the next year and beyond, our mission is to broaden our impact and continue to enrich the lives of our students and their families.

As we embrace this exciting phase of growth and development at CECO, we extend an invitation to you. Join us on this journey. Engage with us, ask questions, and share your valuable feedback. Your involvement is key to our progress. We encourage you to connect us with friends and businesses interested in partnership or donations, whether it be time, talent, or resources. Together, we have the power to strengthen CECO's role as not just a school but a nurturing "family" home for our community. Your support and collaboration are essential in continuing our mission of excellence.
